PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By: Cliff Whitehead

FOUR FOR THE PRICE OF ONE!

I want to thank all of the past presidents (20+) who came together in January to discuss the EBA, including where we have been, where we are, and where we are going. The wealth of institutional knowledge in that room was impressive and something I hope each future EBA president taps into. One of the topics that was discussed is the Continuing Legal Education (CLE) provided by the EBA. My message this month is to remind everyone that the only way we can sustain the high-level quality of those programs is for our members to volunteer!

Whether new statutes, opinions, or technologies (e.g., artificial intelligence), the law never sits still. While we each do our best to keep up, our obligation to stay apprised of those changes can be daunting and often involves sifting through listserv emails. Such becomes even more difficult when the day-to-day obligations of our practice takeover. (It reminds me of the show "24." To those younger members, before the days of streaming, if you missed a couple episodes, you would find yourself lost as to why Jack Bauer was so angry that week.)

This is where the EBA's CLEs come in! The EBA's CLEs offer the perfect, streamlined approach to keeping up with changes in the law, in the comfort of the conveniently-located EBA office, with free soft drinks and snacks, or from wherever you choose, using our on-demand portal. Through our diverse selection of CLE offerings, our members will find a topic on point for their practice.

With that said, our CLEs are only as good as the presenters. To that end, we are ALWAYS in need of esteemed members of the EBA to volunteer to put on CLEs. Regardless of your motives—maybe you have a passion about a new law, maybe you enjoy teaching, maybe you want an excuse to interact with members of the EBA—we need you! (Or, maybe you know that CLE presenters get FOUR-for-one CLE credit hours!) Lastly and selfishly as the EBA President, CLEs provide a much-needed revenue to the EBA.

So, how about it? Who will be the first to contact Julie Moore Holtz to volunteer to share their legal knowledge and further help the EBA?

"She helped me learn how to read, and I showed her how to swing."

Regional Mock Trial VOLUNTEER JUDGES NEEDED

Saturday, February 24, 2024
Civic Center Courts Building

Once again, the Young Lawyers Section and Evansville Bar Association is teaming up with the Indiana Bar Foundation to host the Evansville Regional Mock Trial Competition on Saturday, February 24, 2024 at the Courts Building.

In order to host the competition, we must secure volunteers to serve as presiding judges and scoring judges. Ideally our local judges and magistrates will serve as presiding judges with lawyers and other volunteers serving as scoring judges. For more information or to volunteer on February 24 as a Mock Trial judge, please sign up on the Indiana Bar Foundation using the VOLUNTEER FORM—<https://www.jotform.com/233303741898159>

Please contact Julie Moore Holtz (julie@evvbar.org) if you have any questions about the competition.

VLP News

By: Senior Judge Sheila Corcoran and Susan Vollmer

Last month we shared information on legal navigation and we'd like to follow that up with some information on legal clinics, like our Talk to a Lawyer Program. A legal clinic is a set event where volunteer attorneys can provide brief advice or services. Often times this is focused on providing guidance to people with legal issues and does not include any representation beyond the clinic.

A legal clinic is like legal urgent care. People in need who don't have an attorney can get needed information on where to go or what to do. The people we see at clinics often fall into two broad areas. The first are those who don't know a thing about the legal system and need help understanding what their issue actually is and possible assurance that finding an attorney for further help is right for them. The second are those who have tried to get help, are unable, and need info to empower them to get an appropriate outcome for their matter. Everyone who uses our clinics would undoubtedly be better off with an attorney representing them, but because of the demand for need and our limited resources we offer clinics as urgent care to try to help all those who would otherwise get no help at all.

In addition to Talk to a Lawyer, VLP administers several other clinics to address common legal needs for those unable to afford legal help and need legal outcomes to lead healthy lives. VLP offers general civil law clinics, family law clinics, housing and eviction clinics, second chance clinics, and more. We provide volunteers with information and support to assist their service. Clinics are great ways to connect with the community or experience other areas of law. For more information on any of VLP's programs or how to volunteer, reach out to Max Happe at max.happe@probonoindiana.org. Thank you for volunteering!

The Evansville Bar Foundation Board of Directors would like to give a big shout-out to the Vanderburgh County Prosecutor's Office! In late December 2023 the Prosecutors office made a $1,000 donation to the Foundation.

Then, at our January Board meeting Prosecutor Diana Moers surprised the Board with an additional donation of $6,000! That's a total of $7,000 in donations from the Prosecutor's office drug forfeiture funds in less than a month. Thank you!

Would you like to help the EBF select the grant recipients that will benefit from this generous donation and the donations of your fellow Bar members? If so, join the EBF Board of Directors! We have two at-large seats to fill beginning in June 2024. Send your letter of interest to serve on the Board to Julie@evvbar.org on or before February 14, 2024.

Letters of interest to join the EBF Board should include:

- * Why you would like to serve the Foundation;
- * Your passion for the law and law-related programs; and
- * The number of years you have been a member of the EBA.

Thank you EBA members for your continued support. If you have not yet had a chance to donate since receiving the ask letter in November, don't let another month go by without contributing.
